

Safety Check Report

Initial Exposure Snapshot

This reflects responses to six OSHA-critical areas commonly cited in small general-industry operations. It is not a full safety audit; it is a signal.

SECTION 1 — RESULT STATUS

WAIT — Partial Control, Gaps Present

Your responses indicate that some areas are controlled, while others likely require attention. This is the most common position.

The operation is functional, but exposed in specific areas that may not be visible until reviewed.

SECTION 2 — QUESTION BREAKDOWN

01	Do you have a written Hazard Communication program and can your team locate the SDS for every chemical on site without delay? 29 CFR 1910.1200	Yes — Confirmed
02	Are forklift operators currently certified and are daily pre-shift inspections consistently documented? 29 CFR 1910.178	No — Not in Place
03	Do you have a written Lockout/Tagout program with documented annual inspections for each energy control procedure? 29 CFR 1910.147	Yes — Confirmed
04	Are machine guards in place on all equipment and have none been removed, bypassed, or modified? 29 CFR 1910.212	No — Not in Place
05	Are damaged ladders removed from service and tagged before they are used again? 29 CFR 1910.23	Yes — Confirmed

06 Are safety training sessions documented and can you produce records for the past 12 months for required PPE and equipment training?

Yes — Confirmed

29 CFR 1910.132(f), 1910.178(l)

SECTION 3 — WHAT THIS SUGGESTS

This result usually indicates:

- partial systems in place
- inconsistent execution
- documentation gaps
- overlooked exposure areas

SECTION 4 — WHAT THIS DOES NOT SHOW

This check does not evaluate:

- full OSHA compliance
- condition of equipment
- quality of training
- actual behavior on the floor
- depth of documentation

It identifies where to look first.

SECTION 5 — RECOMMENDED NEXT STEP

What Comes Next

A walkthrough or documentation review provides:

- a clear picture of what is exposed
- a written report of findings
- a prioritized list of what to fix first
- documentation that holds under review

Pricing is straightforward and quoted up front; there are no retainers or long-term contracts.
